

STRAND, GARDEN, AND CRANDALL'S OFFER STARS IN FEATURE FILMS THIS WEEK

This Week's Photoplays

GARDEN.

Earle Williams will make his last personal appearance at Moore's Garden Theater today, and will present a pleasing monologue dealing with his film experience. Other attractions include Mr. Williams and Anita Stewart in "The Awakening," one of their best pictures, and Katherine Adams in "The Long Arm of the Secret Service."

Tomorrow, Tuesday, and Wednesday Wilton Lackaye, a Washingtonian and Broadway star, will be the attraction in "The Man of Shame," adapted from the novel "Roger La Honte," by the late Jules Mary. The production was directed by Harry C. Myers, and the cast includes Rosemary Theby, Victor Louis, Evelyn Dubois, and Harry C. Myers.

Thursday and Friday Paul McAllister, Gail Kane, and Bruce McRae will again be seen in a film version of the Paul Armstrong and Vincent Smith melodrama, "The Wireless." Saturday Mr. Moore has arranged for the personal appearance of Edith Story, who will appear in conjunction with her latest film, "The Dust of Egypt." The actress will deliver a monologue touching on her film world.

CRANDALL'S.

The management of Crandall's Theater in announcing one of its strongest programs of photoplays this year features as the main attraction this week Valerita Suratt in "The Soul of Broadway," which will be shown today and until Thursday. Miss Suratt will make her screen debut by outdoing all her previous efforts in gown and millinery. Many of them are designed to match the "sets" of "The Soul of Broadway."

William E. Shay heads the cast of players appearing in support of Miss Suratt. Mr. Shay has a role particularly suited to his methods. Friday and Saturday the World Film Corporation will present "The Heart of the Ridge," by Waldron Bailey. Miss Young has the support of Chester Harnett and Robert Cummings. Music by Prof. Heilmüller's orchestra will be featured every day.

STRAND.

Today, tomorrow and Tuesday at Moore's Strand Theater, Edmund Breeser, in "The Song of the Wake Slave," will be the principal attraction. The play is based on the stirring verses by Robert W. Service. This poem is said to have started the reading public by its originality and vivid presentation of the hardships and sufferings of the vast working classes.

Wednesday and Thursday Eugene Besserer and Guy Oliver will be seen in a film of "The Circular Staircase," adapted from the novel by Mary Roberts Rinehart.

For the remainder of the week Arnold Daly will be featured in "An Affair of Three Nations," which tells of the adventures of a young man of high social position and great wealth, whose keen mind delves into those mysteries that baffle the police.

The daily program will include Mutual Pictures and the Strand Symphony Orchestra.

Next Week's Films

At Moore's Strand Theater from Sunday to Tuesday next week Edmund Breeser will be the attraction in "The Wake Slave." On Wednesday and Thursday William Elliott will be seen in "Comrade John," a photoplay with the civil war as a background. Geraldine O'Brien will be featured in "His Wife" on Friday and Saturday.

Marguerite Fischer will be featured at Moore's Garden Theater from Sunday to Tuesday of next week in "The Miracle of Life." On Wednesday and Thursday Grace Cunard and Francis

Ford will be featured in "The Campbells Are Coming," picturing the famous battle of the same title. Friday and Saturday Rhea Mitchell will be seen in a new Mutual picture, "On the Brink."

At Crandall's Theater next week William Fox will present Frederick Perry in "The Family Stain," founded on Emilio Gaboriau's detective story, "The Widow Lerouge." This story will be shown from Sunday until Wednesday. Thursday there will be a return engagement of Clara Kimball Young in "The Heart of the Ridge," adapted from the novel by Waldron Bailey. Friday and Saturday Beatriz Michelena will be started in "Salvage Nell," based on Edward Sheldon's drama.

Prominent California Couple in Washington

D. J. Desmond, a leading business man of San Francisco, and chief of the commissary forces that did so much to alleviate the suffering during the great fire there, is a visitor in Washington this week, accompanied by Mrs. Desmond, with whom he expects to make a tour of the large Eastern cities. They are staying at the Willard, and while in Washington are to be entertained at several luncheons and dinners. Among their hosts have been Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Grosvenor, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Pierce Adams, and John Oliver La Gorce.

EX-MARSHAL KILLED BY HIS SUCCESSOR

Victim of Shooting Seen Talking to Woman Just Before Tragedy.

JENA, La., Oct. 17.—One of the most sensational killings in the history of La Salle parish occurred here yesterday when J. E. Thompson shot and instantly killed Ed Warren.

Warren was seen in conversation with Mrs. T. W. Perrin just a few minutes before the shooting.

Warren was ex-marshal of the town and Thompson is the marshal at the present. There has been bad feeling between them for some time.

Sheriff T. J. Brewster arrested Thompson.

Warren was shot twice, one shot breaking his neck, and the other penetrating his brain. Feeling is very tense in Jena, as both parties are prominent and sentiment is running high.

Thomas Grant Takes Bride in Baltimore

Announcement was made today of the wedding in Baltimore yesterday of Mrs. Sue M. Graves, daughter of Mrs. William Daynam Matthews, to Thomas Grant, the popular secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. News of the wedding came as a complete surprise to friends of both the bride and bridegroom, as they took practically no one into their confidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant will be at home at 1023 Irving street northwest after December 1.

Cotton Futures Statute To Be Strictly Enforced

Pending an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, officials of the Treasury and Agricultural departments will strictly enforce the provisions of the cotton futures act. The law was recently declared unconstitutional by Justice Hough in the New York Federal court. Officials here assume that the law is in force until the highest court declares it is not, and point out that if it is upheld by the highest court, all violators will be subject to prosecution.

Frigate Constitution Can't Be Brought Here

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has decided that he is without power to order the removal of the frigate Constitution from the Charleston navy yard, near Boston, to Washington. A specific act of Congress would be necessary to justify removal of the vessel. Secretary Daniels held in vetoing the plan of Arthur F. Dowell, Prof. E. Swavely and Col. George A. Armes, representing the Connecticut Heights Citizens' Association.
